Dear Parents/Students,

Crothersville Community Schools is excited to announce the following days for eLearning makeup for our two snow days.

These makeup days will take place on:

Monday, January 16th, 2017

Monday, February 20th, 2017

All students are expected to participate in eLearning days used for lost instructional days due to inclement weather. Students will be provided work that reflects the teacher’s daily lesson plans to ensure learning continues in all curricular areas. These two days will count as regular school days and digital attendance is mandatory.

1. Students will be instructed on where they will access their instructional content prior to the eLearning day. Material will be accessible from Friday until Monday night during the week of the eLearning day. All assignments must be turned in by 8:00 a.m. on the Tuesday after the eLearning day.
2. Students must show proof of participation on eLearning days by satisfactorily completing eLearning day assignments.
3. Sick days may not be used for non-illness related absences on eLearning days.
4. The elementary school computer lab will be available for both Elementary and Junior High students that need computer or internet access from 8:00 a.m. - 12:00 p.m. GRADES PREK - 8TH MUST BE ACCOMPANIED BY A PARENT OR GUARDIAN DURING LAB USE.
5. Students will bring home their ipads to complete their daily work. If you do experience any technical issues, please contact the Crothersville Community Schools Tech line at 812-793-5656, as we fully understand things do happen which may prevent the completion of work.

6. Your child's teacher will be available for questions regarding their assignments during their posted office hours. Your student's teacher will provide you with a means to contact him or her during these hours.

7. You may email the Crothersville Tech Help Department as well by using techhelp@crothersville.k12.in.us.

A parent must accompany their student to the school.
